Winery Notes

The company was founded by Carlo Botter in 1928 as a small business selling local Veneto wines in barrels and demijohns. It took its first major step forward with the arrival of the second generation of the family. After the Second World War, brothers Arnaldo and Enzo began selling wine in bottles. They boosted the company's presence on the Italian market and – most importantly – they began a constant process of expansion in other countries, which would become the company's main source of income. Some of its Veneto wines were now made on the family land in Motta di Livenza, near Treviso. They were joined by other wines made in the main Italian wine regions, as well as the production and sales of grape juice. The recently renovated La di Motte estate epitomizes the family's close ties with its homeland. Innovative technology and cultivation methods are used to closely monitor production in its 60 hectares of organic vineyards, its winery with a capacity of 1,500 tonnes and its cellar containing 400 barriques.

Tasting Notes

Pale light yellow in colour with fine perlage. Delicately fruity, slightly aromatic bouquet. Well balanced and light body. Harmonic at the taste. Excellent as an aperitif, it is a perfect accompaniment to hors-d'oeuvres and delicate fish courses. Also wonderful with fish and shellfish.
